PROBLEM AND CHALLENGES

The goal was to create a website for the team of developers who build customized SharePoint sites and create associated workflows to manage information for enterprises. The website should represent their approach to work and customers. It was necessary that the company's personality would shine through the screen and become memorable.

SOLUTION AND RESULTS

Our UX/UI designer put all of his creative abilities into a convenient layout and the illustrations. Our full-stack WordPress developer was responsible for the technical part of the project: development of the site itself, its integration with WordPress, speed optimization and deployment of the site to the client's server. Working closely with the QA engineer, we provided the client with a completely bug-free web project.

Testimonials

I would definitely recommend CoreShare which has been our main IT partner for several years and I consider them to be an extension of our team as they dedicate as much time and effort as we do to all our projects.

For more than three years, CoreShare has been an essential partner in my team's success. I really like working with them because they are very responsive, engaged, and curious about the problems we are trying to solve here at Global Pharmaceutical Company and they have always brought great talent to our projects. It has been amazing to have Tony and his team in our corner through all of this. It is fair to say we could not have done this without them. Thank you!
