

MOVEDATA.IO

Connects nonprofit organizations to Salesforce software

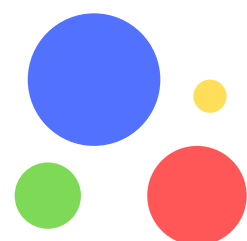

PROBLEM AND CHALLENGES

The easiest way to achieve this functionality is to use Contact Form 7, the most popular WordPress plugin for contact forms. This plugin makes it possible to email every client the exact results achieved with their particular information.

However, this method delivers an unattractive, plain-text email that hardly represents the values and aesthetics of a company like MoveData. Using HTML formatting lets us incorporate images and colors in the body of an email, but... what if we want to share the information contained in the email with others?

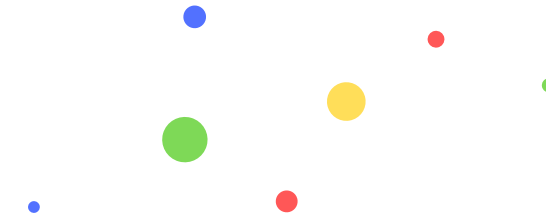

Yes, we could forward the message, but that looks careless and unprofessional – nobody wants that, right?

We all want our clients to be impressed with our correspondence, and to trust our business. A bespoke PDF attachment itemizing a client's relevant data sends a clean, stylish message that communicates efficiency and professionalism.

SOLUTION AND RESULTS

Our research taught us that PDFs can be generated on the server instead of in the client's browser. After your client enters his information and hits "Send" to request a PDF, the result of the calculation can be sent to the server. A new HTML page displaying the results is then produced, and this page converts into a PDF before sending. This approach results in much less data transfer, which means it works much faster. Beyond that convenience, the PDF is created from an HTML page instead of an image, which means you can copy and paste any relevant text that you might need to use. That's exactly what we want: something we, you, and your clients can all be proud of.

Brilliant Service and Support

MoveData go above and beyond to ensure their service integrates to your specific needs. They were understanding, really heard our needs and offered very simple solutions and the most nimble way. BirdLife highly recommend this app but more so the supporting service provided by MoveData.

Great product

We have been using MoveData to connect our Raisely and Salesforce accounts at SurfAid for more than 18 months. MoveData is a great option for us to get our fundraising data into our CRM quickly. Highly recommend.
